“Extremely talented...” is what Kenn Kington, the creator of the Ultimate Comedy Theatre, says about Pete, believed to be the world’s only comic with a Ph.D. in engineering from MIT. “Absolutely fabulous...” is how Program Manager, Jennifer Gardella described Pete’s ability to find the humor in infertility treatment at an international medical conference. Pete combines his technical and comedy backgrounds to deftly deliver humorous content that is also engaging and educational. He carries out NSF-funded research on the application of humor to engineering education, and co-directs the Georgia Tech Humor Genome Project and research on the application of humor to technical communication and innovation. “Feel the Power of the Dork Side” is Pete’s nationally touring one-man show that is a hilarious and educational look at science and technology and their practitioners. He produces and hosts a weekly radio show on WREK-Atlanta whose motto is “Science, only funnier” (see www.insidetheblackbox.org).

WHAT ELSE PEOPLE ARE SAYING ABOUT PETE...

“You got rave reviews from the conference..., and everyone wants you back!” – Dr. Bob Peoples of the Carpet America Recovery Effort 2018 National Conference, Orlando, FL.

“You were the highlight of our ... meeting,” - Greg Alexander, organizer of the 2017 Six Sigma Meeting for Hexion Epoxies, Cincinnati, OH.

“Dr. Pete’s one-man show is part stand-up, part song and all incredibly smart.” – The New Orleans LA Defender on Pete’s show “Feel the Power of the Dork Side” at the 2011 New Orleans Fringe Festival.

“Very funny and smart without being crude! He appealed to our consortium member corporate guests extremely well and we all had a great time. He is a perfect choice for entertaining corporate guests with technical backgrounds.” – Prof. Jay Lee, Director of the Center for Process Systems Engineering, Atlanta, GA.

“The talk was not only hilarious for the chemists in the audience, but also for the audience members with little or no chemical background. You walked the line expertly.” – Keith Sanders, Chemistry Instructor, Girls Preparatory School, Chattanooga, TN

“What can I say...you made the event! Everyone loved your comedy... many, many thanks.” - Kathy Fuller, Director of Membership and Volunteers, East Cobb Democratic Alliance, Cobb County GA.

“I want to thank you for making our evening so eventful... a good time was had by all.” - Judith Nordgren, Vice President of Marketing and Communications, The Vinyl Institute.

“Thanks for giving such a great opening to our event, you were hilarious...” - Dr. Dana Hartley, Director of Academic Advising, Georgia Institute of Technology.

“Wow, what a great show... It was perfect, both in terms of quality and the message...” Prof. Rob McDowell, Carter N. Paden Jr. Distinguished Chair in Metals Processing at Georgia Tech on a recent presentation to the Engineering Learning Community of the University of Nebraska at Lincoln.
